

CLOUDY with a chance of MEATBALLS

WHERE'S THE BANANA?

Where's the Banana?

This is a silly game for six or more players. The players sit on the floor, all in a tight circle facing in, except one who must sit in the middle. The players in the circle pass a banana to each other behind their backs while the person in the middle counts to twenty. When the middle person finishes counting he/she says "stop." The banana passing must stop and the person in the middle guesses who has the banana. If he/she guesses correctly, then the person in the middle joins the circle and the person with the banana must go to the middle to count and guess "Where's the banana?".
