

LOUDY with a chance of MEATBALLS

MOVIE NIGHT PLANNER

Enjoy It!

Movie night is a great way to relax. Sunday nights are a favorite movie night to wind down after a busy weekend of sports, play-dates and socializing. Start early so you can reorient the kids to their school night schedule and have them in bed at a decent hour. Relax from kitchen duties by eating something quick and easy like pasta or order take out like pizza or rotisserie chicken.

Clean the Slate

It's hard to enjoy a movie when you have dirty dishes and laundry calling your name. Work together as a family to get the kitchen cleaned up and laundry folded before the movie starts so you can relax. Use the reward of the movie to inspire the kids to straighten up their room, take a shower and put on their pajamas so you can get them to bed more easily if they fall asleep during the movie.

Have Fun with It

While you are preparing dinner, have kids play with the printable Cloudy With A Chance Of Meatballs activities to get them excited for the movie. They can even draw and cut out play movie tickets to hand out to the family.

Setup the Viewing

Set up a comfy bed of cushions or pillows on the floor for the kids to enjoy. Darken the room, put on your snoogie and get comfortable.

Watch the Trailers

Just like in the movie theater — have fun voting for your favorite trailer.

Snack-arama

If you want to snack during the movie, popcorn is a fun treat and is easy to clean up if gets spilled.

Call an Intermission

Give family members a chance to take a bathroom break. Use that time to serve dessert at the dining table before restarting the movie to avoid potentially messy cleanups in the TV room.

Dessert Options

Pick a dessert to go with the theme of the movie. For Cloudy With A Chance Of Meatballs, individual jello molds filled with gummy bears or ice cream topped with malt balls (The kids will get a kick out of it). Make sure not to give your kids too much to drink before bedtime.
